7:00  REGISTRATION & CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST

MORNING SESSION – Henry H. Hutchinson, Co-Chair, Presiding

8:30  Estate and Gift Tax Developments - This will be a review of recent judicial and legislative developments covering estate, gift, generation skipping, and fiduciary income taxes. Special attention will be paid to legislative developments with an emphasis on the possible repeal or revamping the estate, gift, and generation-skipping taxes, gift strategies, valuation issues, estate inclusion, the generation-skipping tax, the charitable deduction, life insurance, and asset protection planning.
Charles D. Fox, IV, McGuireWoods, LLP; Charlottesville, VA

10:00  COFFEE BREAK

10:15  Estate Planning In A Seven Generation World - Never before have we been in a position to advise and influence seven generations at once. Presentation will address the problems and opportunities that planning for a seven-generation world creates.
Patricia M. Annino, Prince Lobel Tye, LLP; Boston, MA

11:45  LUNCH ON YOUR OWN

AFTERNOON SESSION – William J. Bryant, Presiding Trustee

1:00  You’ve Ignored Me Long Enough – The Income Taxation of Trusts and Estates - The structure of Subchapter J including the concept of distributable net income (DNI), the types of trusts (simple, complex and grantor), trust accounting income, the distribution system (including the tier system, the separate share rule and the 65 day rule), the fiduciary income tax charitable deduction, and the termination of a trust or estate will be reviewed. The presentation will provide an overview of the income taxation of trusts and estates and planning ideas available to fiduciaries. Included in the materials will be an example of the income taxation of a complex trust complete with calculations and an example return.
Jeremiah W. Doyle, IV, BNY Mellon Wealth Management; Boston, MA

2:15  COFFEE BREAK

2:30  Modern Uses of Partnerships in Estate Planning - Income tax planning and tax basis management will be at the forefront of estate planning, whether “tax reform” happens or not. Entities taxed as partnerships are the ideal vehicle in this new paradigm. The presentation will discuss how partnerships (and disregarded entities) can be used to change the basis of assets and maximize the “step-up” in basis, defer and shift tax items (income and deductions), diversify concentrated stock positions with little or no tax, dispose of those pesky installment notes currently in the grantor’s estate, and transfer wealth in a world of diminishing valuation discounts (especially since the section 2704 regulations will likely be finalized regardless of “tax reform”).
Paul S. Lee, The Northern Trust Company; New York, NY

4:00  COFFEE BREAK
Ethics Issues Arising in Concurrent Representation of Spouses and Other Family Members - This presentation will explore the vexing ethics issues that can arise when estate planning professionals represent, or even communicate with, multiple members of the same family. The focus will be on the professional’s avoiding, or at least successfully navigating, conflicts of interest and fulfilling the duties of loyalty and confidentiality. Related subjects to be addressed include engagement letters, a lawyer’s dealing with unrepresented parties and the attorney-client privilege. The relevant Model Rules of Professional Conduct as well as several illustrative cases will be reviewed.

Charles A. Redd, Stinson Leonard Street, LLP; St. Louis, MO

CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST

MORNING SESSION – Mark E. Hieronymus, Presiding Trustee

Panel Discussion of Recent Developments in Alabama Taxes - Legislative, Judicial and Administrative - The Spring 2017 legislative session will be concluded and how the Alabama legislature chose to close a significant budget gap will be known, whether by raising revenue and/or cutting tax exemptions, amidst the real prospect of Federal tax reform this year and its potential impact on state and local revenues. Joe, Curtis and Bruce will again provide an update on what legislation passed and what did not, as well as recent tax developments in state and federal courts and in Congress that affect Alabama businesses and their advisers. Recent announcements and rulings issued by the Alabama Department of Revenue will also be reviewed, followed by questions and answers.

Bruce P. Ely, Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP; Birmingham, AL

Joe W. Garrett, Jr., Alabama Department of Revenue; Montgomery, AL

Curtis E. Stewart, Alabama Department of Revenue; Montgomery, AL

COFFEE BREAK

Risk of Loss and the New Partnership Debt Allocation Rules - Recent proposed, temporary, and final regulations significantly change the way risk of loss is determined for purposes of a number of Internal Revenue Code provisions, including sections 704, 707, and 752. In particular, the model for recourse debt allocations is completely changed. The modifications to these important rules will be covered together with alternative means for allocating liabilities that may still achieve taxpayer goals.

James B. Sowell, KPMG LLP; Washington, DC

LUNCHEON PROVIDED BY AIFT (BY RSVP ONLY AT TIME OF REGISTRATION)

AFTERNOON SESSION – Blake A. Madison, Presiding Trustee

Target Allocations: What Accountants Need to Consider - Target allocation provisions are becoming more common in partnership agreements. Someone (typically, the partnership’s accountant) must interpret the target allocation provisions and reflect the results on the partnership’s tax return. The presentation will focus on target allocation provisions from the perspective of the accounting firm that must interpret the allocation provisions in light of the partnership’s cash distribution waterfall, using real world examples. The presentation will address each step of the process, starting with analyzing relevant partnership agreement provisions and ending with the taxable income allocations reflected on the return, highlighting common drafting ambiguities.

Brian Knudson, Ernst & Young LLP; Minneapolis, MN

COFFEE BREAK
2:45  Jurisdiction to Tax: Emerging Developments in State Tax Nexus – Is a physical presence requirement a thing of the past? Should there really be different nexus standards depending upon the type of tax that is being imposed? Is new life being breathed into the Due Process Clause? The presentation will survey recent judicial, legislative, and regulatory developments impacting a state’s authority to tax in an effort to shed some light on these and other questions that continue to lead to uncertainty in the field of state and local tax.
Kelly W. Smith, PricewaterhouseCoopers, LLP; Atlanta, GA
Barbara G. Coulter, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP; Atlanta, GA

3:45  COFFEE BREAK

4:00  Recent Federal Income Tax Developments – A review of significant federal administrative, judicial, and legislative income tax developments over the past twelve months.
Edward J. Schnee, The University of Alabama; Tuscaloosa, AL

5:30  RECESS

FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 2017

7:30  CONTINENTAL BREAKFAST

MORNING SESSION – Bruce P. Ely, Presiding Trustee

8:30  Effective Approaches for Planning with Tax Accounting Methods – Given the continuing increase in automatic requests for tax accounting method changes, the impact of methods on anticipated merger/acquisition transactions and the potential of changing tax rates, the presentation will explore the approaches to recognizing, reacting to and planning with accounting methods. This is an area growing in sophistication when combined with other taxpayer variables. The current environment provides the taxpayer with increasing control over the timing and determination of beneficial methods along with protective measures to avoid the consequences of bad or inappropriate methods. The presentation will highlight key components in assessing this area for a variety of taxpayer types.
Christopher C. Adler, RSM US LLP; Baltimore, MD

9:30  Understanding and Planning for the New Partnership Audit Rules – The presentation will focus on the new partnership audit rules and proposed regulations and other guidance issued by the Treasury and IRS. Among the topics will be the election-out rules, the imputed underpayment computation and modifications, the push-out rules, tax litigation impacts as well as the states’ treatment of the new rules.
Jerald D. August, Kostelanetz & Fink LLP; New York, NY

10:30  COFFEE BREAK

10:45  Dramatic Changes and Lessons Learned in Protecting Clients from Audit through Appeals to Litigation – Everyone who defends citizens on audit must know about the Service's more aggressive summons approach, reflexive penalty assertions, and the perils of privilege waiver. Everyone who defends clients going to Appeals must know about the struggle between the historic function of an Appeals Officer as a de facto administrative law judge and the National Office transition to detached “campus” video conferences and telephone calls. They also need to know the most effective ways to resolve matters under both approaches. Anyone who defends the administratively abused seeking vindication in Tax Court must know the opportunities that presents.
David D. Aughty, Chamberlain, Hrdlicka, White, Williams & Aughty, LLP; Atlanta, GA
